

Eiffel Tower Pose on Family Yoga Day (Adans Paris Shorts)

3,553 story words. Approx 14 plus standard pages. * The six young cousins I use in so much of my current fiction, ages nine to almost eighteen, are heavily featured. This time joined by a young six year old friend that lives near their grandparents, who have taken all of them to a special yoga class for families. My wife and I both obtained national fitness certifications after retirement, and being able to fictionalize a group class, with such a wide age spread, has truly been fun. * Each story in the collection, Paris Shorts, is enjoyable as a stand alone work of fiction. Additionally, each has the advantage of featuring one or more of the characters in the story line of all my novels and short stories written since 2012. The time frames for these stories vary, and will be notated for each individual piece. Eiffel Tower Pose on Family Yoga Day is set within the second Slumming in Paris novel.

Short stories like this, I believe, do not require reading the novel first, or any other of my fiction work. Yet, the stories will either enhance the reading of the fiction the characters participate in, and in this case, especially Slumming in Paris, Part Two, The Children ; or, if one has already read the related novel, will give extra meaning and nuance to the short story. A current kept-up-to-date chronology of the time sequence of all the short stories and novels is available on my site on my page, My Fiction Storylines. My wife Sheila and I spent 5 1/2 weeks in Paris late 2012, which has formed the setting basis for the Slumming in Paris novels, and theses short stories. My series Paris in 5 1/2 Weeks presents many of my photos taken then, which I hope you will also enjoy. With best wishes, Adan
