

Pieces of Love

Sixteen year-old Alexis Hartman wants nothing more than to smoke pot and play guitar. Getting high and escaping into her music seem the perfect solution when her world is shattered by her sisters death. But when shes arrested for possession a second time, life couldnt get any more complicated. Her mothers breakdown is the final straw that forces Lexi to spend the summer on the West Coast with her grandmother, Maddie. When Lexi steps over the line one too many times, shes certain her life is over and that shes destined for juvenile detention until Maddie decides that desperate measures are called for. A three week Mediterranean cruise for seniors should keep her out of trouble. But Lexi has other ideas. Eighteen year-old Ethan Kaswell, the poster child for good sons, is stranded on the cruise when his father, a famous heart surgeon, is kept away by an important consultation. With his own life perfectly mapped out, Ethan finds Lexis unpredictability irresistible. Although hes smart enough to see that there is no future in falling for a vacation crush, Lexis edgy dark side draws him like an anchor to the bottom of the sea. As the two embark on the journey of a lifetime, can Lexi finally learn to love someone even when she has to let them go?
