

Honoring Our Detroit River: Caring for Our Home

Great Lakes Journey is a follow-up to William Ashworth's earlier book The Late, Great Lakes, published in 1986. Fifteen years after his first trip, Ashworth journeys to many of the same places and talks to many of the same people to examine the changes that have taken place along the Great Lakes since the 1980s. It is a poetic account of his 6000-mile trip, mixed with explanations of the scientific and political realities behind the observed changes, reminiscences of his 1983 trip, and conversations with local residents - some of them scientists, and other simply people who care. Through personal observations, research and numerous interviews with scientists, activists and government agencies, Ashworth creates a detailed picture of the status of the Great Lakes at the end of the 20th century. Among the most prominent changes he finds are the arrival of the zebra mussel and other exotic species, the rise and fall of the RAP process for pollution cleanup, a growing public mistrust of government action, a substantial loss of habitat and biodiversity, and an explosion of urban sprawl along the shores of the Lakes. Scholars and students of environmental studies and ecology and readers interested in the health of the Great Lakes should find this fresh look at one of America's endangered regions of value.

Setting priorities for conserving and rehabilitating Detroit River habitats Refuge Manager at Detroit River International Wildlife Refuge Rivers that Caught on Fire (2010) Honoring Our Detroit River, Caring for Our Home (2003) and Honoring Our Detroit River: Caring for Our Home: George L. Cornell : Honoring Our Detroit River: Caring for Our Home (9780877370444) by Dingell, John D. Hartig, John H. Cornell, George L. and a great John Hartig LinkedIn Honoring Our Detroit River looks at key aspects of the river's history and impact on to learn more about this valuable resource and to care for it as their home. Honoring Our Detroit River: Caring for Our Home Cranbrook Such habitat has been defined as places in the river where physical, Larger Work Title: Honoring our Detroit River: Caring for our home First FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE Contacts: John Hartig, 313-717-7483 Honoring Our Detroit River: Caring for Our Home (DOWNLOAD Ninth Annual Conference, Society for Industrial Archeology, Detroit, MI. Imm, P., L. In Honoring Our Detroit River: Caring for Our Home, J. H. Hartig (ed.). none Category: Detroit. Rand McNally Streetfinder: Detroit & Vicinity Honoring Our Detroit River: Caring for Our Home Rand McNally Detroit/Southeast, Michigan Honoring Our Detroit River: Caring for Our Home: John H.

