

SNIPP Claude Monet

Thank you for picking up a copy of SNIPP, the ultimate paper kit for crafters, scrap bookers and art lovers alike. These snippets of art, textures and design came from years of searching for great images to use in zines, publications and other art projects. After years of photocopying, scanning art books and searching out public domain images Ive compiled my favourites into books meant to be cut up, photocopied and used however you want. All of the images in this book exist in the public domain and arent subject to copyright laws. You may use them for personal or commercial use without permission from SNIPP or the artists depicted in these collections. Claude Monet (1840-1926) Claude Monet was one of the founding fathers of the French Impressionist art movement. The name of the style actually came from one of his pieces, (Impression, Soleil Levant). Through looking at his work it is obvious he was focused on light and the effect it has on colour and he was known for his meticulous effort to observe the interaction between the two. Later in his life Monet developed cataracts in both eyes leading to a noticeable change in the ways he used colour in his painting. Monet is definitely a favourite here at SNIPP and we never seem to find an end to the ways we use his vibrant artwork. Thanks Monet! Youre the best!
